[DECEMBER, MDCCLXVI.] THE [NUMB. 51.]

SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1766.

ST. JOHN'S, (in ANTIGUA) October 15.

ON Monday night, the 6th inſtant, we had a violent ſtorm of wind and rain, by which a veſſel belonging to Mr. John Braham was drove from her anchors, and loſt; ſome plantations have ſuffered, but the neighbouring iſlands have felt the moſt dreadful effects from it, the wind being far ſoutherly, viz.

At Barbados the ſhipping were drove out to ſea, but have all returned to that iſland without much damage.

At St. Vincent's ſome ſmall craft are loſt.

At Point Petre in Grandterre ſeven topſail veſſels are on ſhore. And at another port in the ſame iſland, a ſugar loaded brig is loſt.

We have not yet had an opportunity of collecting the particular damages ſuſtained in the interior parts of theſe iſlands by this terrible tempeſt.

Laſt week was brought in here a ſloop, taken up to the Eaſtward of Montſerrat, without a living creature on board: Her cargo conſiſts of flour, lumber, &c. She is ſuppoſed to be from New-York. Her decks were under water, her lumber port open, her binnacle burnt, and ſhe floated by the lumber on board; ſhe is now libelled for ſalvage in the court of Vice Admiralty by Capt. Keeble, of the ſloop Glouceſter, who brought her in.

BASSETERRE, (in St. Chriſtopher's) October 15.

Before the Honourable ROBERT HENVILL, Eſq; Judge Surrogate of the Court of Vice Admiralty for the ſaid Iſland.

The Depoſition of WILLIAM HARRIS, Mariner;

THIS deponent being duly ſworn on the holy Evangeliſts of Almighty God, declareth and ſaith, That ſome time in the month of Auguſt laſt, he ſailed in the ſloop called Polly, whereof one —— Dorria, was maſter, bound from New-York to the Leeward Iſlands, and about three weeks afterwards, being then in the latitude twenty-five, to the beſt of this deponent's knowledge, and there being at that time on board the ſaid ſloop the ſaid maſter, his mate, named —— Denelt, two paſſengers, whoſe names were unknown to the deponent, a Portugueſe, who ſaid his name was Joſeph Andrews, a Dutchman, named Nicholas Johnſon, both mariners on board the ſaid ſloop, a cabbin boy, named —— Cobbs, and a boy, whoſe name this deponent cannot recollect; in the night, about twelve o'clock, the captain's watch being out, the ſecond watch was called, being the mate's, this deponent's, and one of the boy's; and when this deponent came on the deck, together with the mate and boy, the mainſail being then half-maſt-high, the mate ordered the mainſail to be hoiſted, and went forward to aſſiſt, and, as the mainſail was hoiſting, the ſaid Joſeph Andrews ſaid to this deponent,----Will, is it not your turn to relieve the perſon at the helm? And this deponent anſwered it was; but he would firſt aſſiſt in hoiſting the mainſail; which being done, and as this deponent was going aft, he heard the mate tell the ſaid Joſeph Andrews to aſſiſt in hauling down the flying-jib, after which he would not be diſturbed, it being his watch below.

And this deponent ſaith, he went immediately after that, and relieved the man at the helm, who was Nicholas Johnſon; and as this deponent was at the helm, one of the paſſengers came on the deck, and ſtood looking with his face forward, when the ſaid Joſeph Andrews came running aft, on the lee ſide, and came up between the companion and the tiller-head, and ſtruck down the ſaid paſſenger with a large ax, uſed for the cutting of wood, which this deponent obſerving, cried out, For God Almighty's ſake, Andrews, what are you about? Upon which the ſaid Joſeph Andrews then made a ſtroke at this deponent, and miſſed him, and he this deponent immediately ran aft, and the ſaid Joſeph Andrews attempted to follow him; but on hearing the paſſenger groan whom he had knocked down, he turned to him, killed him, and, as this deponent believes, then threw him overboard, during which time this deponent went out upon the flying-jib-boom-end, in order to ſecret himſelf from the ſaid Joſeph Andrews: And this deponent further ſaith, That, after his ſtaying ſome time on the flying-jib-boom-end, the ſaid Joſeph Andrews came forward, and called to this deponent, and aſked him, if he would agree to his and the Dutchman's propoſals, meaning the ſaid Nicholas Johnſon; telling this deponent, there were no others then on board, dead or alive, excepting the ſaid Joſeph Andrews, Nicholas Johnſon, and this deponent, which greatly ſurpriſed and alarmed this deponent, as he never ſuſpected what had happened, and what they afterwards related to him.

And this deponent ſaith, He then aſked them what the propoſals were? Upon which they replied, that the veſſel was their own, and if he would conſent to their propoſals, he ſhould come in from the flying-jib-boom-end in ſafety, and have one third of what was in the veſſel.

And this deponent ſaith, That through fear, and in hopes of preſerving his life, he conſented; and, after coming from the flying-jib-boom, they made him follow them into the cabbin, where they broke open ſeveral of the lockers to look for liquor, and alſo broke open the captain's cheſt, and took from thence two bottles of wine, and, after ſwearing this deponent never to diſcover, they then told him, That before the ſecond watch, in which this deponent was, they being in the firſt watch with the captain, they had thrown overboard (alive) one of the paſſengers, and knocked down the captain, and threw him over-board (dead) and had alſo thrown over the cabbin-boy (alive).

And this deponent further ſaith, That he verily believes, the mate and the other boy, who were in the watch, and came on the deck with this deponent, were killed before the ſaid Joſeph Andrews ran aft, and knocked down the paſſenger as aforeſaid; and his reaſon for ſuch belief is, That if they had not been killed before, they would have come aft to the aſſiſtance of this deponent, as this deponant made a noiſe, thinking that the captain was aſleep in his cabbin, and that he would awake him, and alſo to bring the mate and boy, and Dutchman aft, not then ſuſpecting that the Dutchman was concerned with the Portugueſe.

And this deponant further ſaith, That about three or four days afterwards, the ſaid Joſeph Andrews, Nicholas Johnſon, and this deponent, quitted the ſaid ſloop, and took to the boat, in order to go in her to St. Euſtatius, and they ſteered for the Iſland of Nevis, and ſo ran under the Iſland of St. Chriſtopher's; and this deponent obſerving the ſaid Joſeph Andrews and Nicholas Johnſon to be faſt aſleep, ſteered the boat near Brimſtone-hill, and being nigh the ſhore, and imagining his life to be in danger, as he had overheard the ſaid Joſeph Andrews and the ſaid Nicholas Johnſon, while they were in the ſloop, ſay, That they would knock him on the head, and heave the log with him; and, when in the boat, he ſaw the ſaid Joſeph Andrews give the ſeveral ſigns to the ſaid Nicholas Johnſon to kill this deponent; he this deponent ſtripped off his ſhoes, and took both the oars that were in the boat, that is, the one he ſteered the boat with, and an oar that lay in the boat, and caſt himſelf with them into the ſea, and ſwam to the ſhore under Brimſtone-hill aforeſaid: And this deponept ſaith, He does not know what became of the ſaid Joſeph Andrews and Nicholas Johnſon, after he quitted the boat as aforeſaid, but believes, they made ſome contrivance to get into St. Euſtatius.

And this deponent further ſaith, He cannot conceive what inducement they could have had to commit the ſaid ſeveral murders, unleſs it was with a view of getting what money or valuable effects, if any, that were on board, belonging to the captain and paſſengers.

And, laſtly, this deponent ſaith, That the ſaid Joſeph Andrews is about five feet ſix inches high, of a ſwarthy complexion, with very black curled hair, well made, has a wife at New-York, and lived in a ſtreet in the city of New-York, called the Golden-hill, ſpeaks good Engliſh, and has often attempted to paſs as a Welſhman: And the ſaid Nicholas Johnſon is ſomewhat taller than the ſaid Joſeph Andrews, of a fair complexion, light coloured hair, has a full face, but not ſo well made as the ſaid Joſeph Andrews.

WILLIAM HARRIS.

Sworn this 10th Day of October, 1766.
before me, R. HENVILL.

QUEBEC, October 13.

The maſter of a fiſhing veſſel, arrived here on Friday night laſt from ſome of the ports below, informs, That the ſnow Charles, Capt. Venture, and ſhip General Conway, Capt. Lee, had ſuffered in the late ſtorm; the former having loſt all her anchors and cables, and the latter all except one; and that they had put to ſea in that condition.

BOSTON, October 27.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated Auguſt 12, 1766.

"By the papers you'll find Mr. PITT, now Earl of Chatham, has been placed at the head of affairs, and has had the nomination of moſt of the great officers of ſtate; our affairs will take a happy turn, it is hoped:—But as he has not been able to put every perſon into poſt that thinks himſelf qualified for it, am afraid the ſpirit of oppoſition will take riſe, and endeavour to clog the wheels of government, not ſo much on account of government itſelf, as to prevent the Earl of Chatham coming forth with that luſtre which his ſuperior talents promiſes.——Were the good of the community the only object of their purſuits, nothing I think could ſtand before them---but where places, high honours, and power, with all their attendants, ſeem to be their objects, the very name of patriot ſeems only to be made a ſtalking horſe, behind which they ſhelter themſelves in purſuit of their game."

Capt. Watts, who arrived here laſt Wedneſday from Newfoundland, on the 19th inſt. in Lat. 43: 15, N. and Long. 67: 20, W. ſpoke the brig Greyhound, from Barbados, bound to Portſmouth, out 28 days; the people informed him, that on the 5th, about five in the morning, the veſſel was ſtruck with lightning, every man on board knocked down and ſtuned; all recovered again but one man, named William Molton, belonging to Philadelphia, who was killed, and one other wounded: The mainmaſt was ſplit from the top to the ſtep, alſo both the pumps; the lower deck and part of the upper deck were blown up, and the whole veſſel was full of ſmoak and ſulpher for an hour; the lightning likewiſe ſpoil'd both their compaſſes, and ſcorch'd the cards ſo much, that Capt. Watts was obliged to ſupply them with one. They had met with a hard gale, which ſplit their foreſail in two.

Tueſday night laſt, Capt. Smith, from fiſhing, arrived at Charleſtown, who brought 16 hands belonging to a ſhip, which had been caſt-away near the Iſland of Anticoſta: The ſhip was large frigate-built, and bound from London for Quebec, with a very valuable cargo of dry goods. The maſter's name —— Mitchell, who, with the ſecond mate and three hands, were drowned.

NOVEMBER 3. A Gentleman in London writes to his correſpondent here, Auguſt 30, that the market is at preſent overſtocked with American Pot-aſh,—that the beſt now ſells at 28 to 29l. per ton, and but few buyers;—that the price muſt be conſiderably lower, unleſs the different provinces ſtop the exportation for a few months, which will not be eaſily done, till they are ſenſible of their error.

We hear a veſſel is arrived at Plymouth from St. Euſtatia, and brings advice, that a ſevere [illegible] wind happened the 7th of laſt month, in which the [illegible] with others, were drove out to ſea: Its ſaid the wind blew more violent than in the hurricane which happened at Martinico the 13th of Auguſt; but we do not hear of any particular loſs ſuſtained thereby. 'Tis alſo ſaid a ſmart ſhock of an earthquake was felt at St. Kitts the ſame day, but that no damage was done by it.

On the 4th of October, a veſſel bottom upwards, with no living creature on board, was towed into Bermuda; ſhe was about 52 feet keel, had a black bottom, and was ſuppoſed to be a ſchooner: She had on board a quantity of white pine plank, and one barrel of flour floated from her, marked A. P. No. 54.—A few days before a ſloop of about 70 tons, which was overſet, alſo drove by that Iſland, but at too great a diſtance to be towed in.

On the 9th ult. the wife of the Rev. Mr. Butler, of Nottingham, in New-Hampſhire, was ſafely delivered of three children, two boys and a girl, who were all baptized the following ſabbath.

PROVIDENCE, (in Rhode-Iſland) Nov. 1.

Joſeph Sherwood, Eſq; our agent at the court of Great-Britain, in his laſt letter to the governor and company of this colony, acquaints them, that he had applied to the lords of the treaſury for the payment of the money due to the colony, by grant of parliament, as a reimburſement for their ſervices during the late war; but was told by their lordſhips, that as there had been dangerous riots in the colony, on account of the ſtamp-act, in which ſeveral perſons had their property deſtroyed, they were determined to retain the money in their hands, till ample compenſation ſhould be made to the ſufferers.——This letter has been laid before the General Aſſembly, and the agent requeſting inſtructions how to proceed, they appointed a committee to conſider and point out what was expedient to be done, who have made a report, which was approved, to this purpoſe, that his honour the Governor be requeſted to direct the agent to repreſent to their Lordſhips, that in conſequence of a parliamentary grant ſome time ſince, the other Colonies had received their ſeveral proportions; and with regard to riots, and the diſtruction of private property, that the legiſlature knew of none, no complaints of that kind having come before them; but when any real ſufferers ſhould, in a conſtitutional manner, apply to the General Aſſembly for redreſs, they would take the matter into conſideration, and do therein what they conceived to be juſt and reaſonable.

It is ſaid, the merchants of the city of London, in one day, ſubſcribed 5000l. towards the relief of the unhappy ſufferers, by the late dreadful fire, at Bridge-Town in Barbados.

Tobago, one of the ceded Iſlands in the Weſt-Indies, it is ſaid, will ſoon be a very flouriſhing colony, many thouſand acres of land having been purchaſed, by perſons who are determined to make improvements thereon, with all expedition.

NEW-YORK, October 27.

To Major ROBERT ROGERS, Eſq; Governor, and Commander in Chief of Michilimackinac, and its Dependencies, &c. &c.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

WE, the Merchants and Traders of Michilimackinac, beg leave to congratulate you on your ſafe arrival here. It gives us a particular ſatisfaction, that you are appointed our Governor, more eſpecially at a time that many of the Indian nations almoſt worn out with repeated ſolicitations for traders, are on the eve of diſcontent; but our hopes from you, Sir, to reconcile matters, and put the trade upon a proper footing, are very ſanguine. You have already diſtinguiſhed yourſelf in a military, and have now a fair opportunity of doing it in a civil capacity. Your activity, and the many eminent ſervices you rendered your country in the courſe of the laſt war, and the reputation you have by that means gained amongſt the Indians, will add weight to your councils, and re-eſtabliſh the national credit, through the moſt extenſive and remoteſt part of his Majeſty's Dominions.

Permit us to aſſure you, Sir, that on our parts, we ſhall at all times do every thing in our power to bring the Indians to a ſenſe of their duty, and make your reſidence as agreeable as the place will admit of.

Michilimackinac, Auguſt 12, 1766.

[Signed by 20 Merchants and Traders.]

Major ROGERS's Anſwer.

Gentlemen,

THIS affectionate Addreſs deſerves my gratitude. I cannot but be ſenſibly affected at the general diſcontent among the Indians; but be aſſured, that I ſhall enforce every ſalutary meaſure conducive to the re-eſtabliſhment of general tranquility, conſiſtent with the inſtructions I have, and may, from time to time receive from Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, under whom I act, from whoſe judgment and extenſive knowledge, in Indian affairs, the grievances you complain of, may ſpeedily be removed.

Be aſſured, my endeavours ſhall never be wanting, in promoting the trade of this diſtant poſt; and I ſhall be ready at all times, to adviſe with you on meaſures for its advancement.

R. ROGERS.

NOVEMBER 3. Thurſday laſt the new Epiſcopal chapel, in this city, called ST. PAUL'S, and eſteemed one of the moſt elegant Edifices on the continent, was opened, and dedicated to Almighty God. The concourſe of people, of all ranks and denominations, (who attended on this occaſion) was very great.

With Capt. Lawrence are come paſſengers, Major James's Lady, and her Niece; Dr. Moffat, of Rhode-Iſland; and Mr. Walker, collector for Newcaſtle on Delaware.

NOVEMBER 6. Laſt Wedneſday came on before the ſupreme court of judicature for this province, a cauſe in which

Mr. Thomas White, of this city, merchant, was plaintiff, and Capt. Brown, of his Majesty's ship Hawke, defendant, for the seizure of a ship and cargo in December 1763; when, after a hearing of 17 hours, the jury brought a verdict for the plaintiff, with £. 4046 damages, and costs of suit.

On Tuesday the 4d inst. about 12 o'clock at night, a number of soldiers, said to belong to the 46th regiment, entered into the house of Casper Hart, a cartman, of this city; a very honest inoffensive man, and without the least provocation, on the poor man's side, cut and wounded him in a terrible manner, and dragged him into the street, so that it is next to a miracle he was not murdered; not content with using him in this manner, they went to his stable, and there hamstrung his horse, the only means he had for his subsistance; on which the guard was sent for; they immediately came, and made search for the person accused, and on entering a house suspected of harbouring soldiers, there found the soldier, whose clothes were stained with the blood from the wounds of the poor man; he was immediately confined, and from the endeavours of the officers of the army to assist the magistrates, it is not doubted but he will receive condign punishment.

We have the pleasure to inform our readers, from good authority, that his Excellency Sir HENRY MOORE, our Governor, has received instructions from home, to give his assent to the Bills that may be passed and presented to him by the General Assembly of this province, for the emission of Paper Currency, or Money Bills of Credit.

Capt. Bedlow, who arrived here a few days ago from St. Croix, acquaints us, That on the 18th of last month, they had there a violent storm, or rather hurricane, which lasted near 24 hours, in which time he was obliged to slip his cable and put out to sea: When the storm abated he got into Tortola, where three vessels had been drove on shore, but would be got off again. The next day he returned to St. Croix, where the sea had rose so high, that many hogsheads of sugars were washed away in the streets, and considerable damage done to other vessels.

NOVEMBER 10. Capt. Sawyer, from St. Kitts, lay at Sandy-point, the 6th ult. the day the late gale of wind happened there, and says, that he, in company with Captain Nelms, had the good luck to get out to sea, otherwise they must inevitably have been drove ashore; and on the 7th Capt. Nelms fell in with a sloop on her beam ends, said to belong to some part in New-England, with her mast and boltsprit along-side, and all the crew hanging to the weather gunnel, but the sea ran so high, he could not give them any assistance; and that one of the men attempting to swim to Capt. Nelms, was drowned; that at Statia, three vessels were drove ashore, and two foundered in the road, by getting foul of each other, and that ten of their hands who took to one of their boats, were drove out to sea, and it was supposed soon perished; and that it was said at St. Kitts, 32 sail were lost at Guadaloupe, in the same gale, and many of them English.

Extract of a Letter from Detroit, November 8, 1766.

"A few days ago Pondiac, and the chiefs of the several nations here, arrived from Oswego, where they have been in council with Sir William Johnson, and all seem very well contented with the treatment they met with there. The two Poutewatamies prisoners, who were here in the guard, are set at liberty, and all their people allowed access to the fort, and the privilege of trade as usual.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26.

Monday last arrived here the brig Adventure, Capt. Harvey, from Hispaniola, which island he left the 18th of last month, and informs us, That about the 20th of August, six Spaniards brought into Cape Francois, from Porto Rico, a New-England built sloop, about 25 tons burthen, a short quarter deck, and by her bottom it was thought she had been on her voyage about two or three months: Circumstances appearing hard against the Spaniards, as the sloop appeared to be English, without any cargo on board, nor anchors or cables, which had been cut away, they were taken up and committed to goal, on suspicion of their having murdered the people and ran away with the sloop, as on examination they gave but a poor account of themselves. The sloop was sold, and the money lodged in the hands of the King's officers, till somebody should appear to claim the same.

NOVEMBER 13. By Captain Harper from Antigua we have advice, that about the 14th of October a Gentleman arrived there from St. Eustatia, who left that island three days after the gale of wind which began on the 6th, and informed, that all the sea vessels there put out when the gale came on, only a few small craft being drove ashore; and that none of the vessels had returned when he came away, except a brig, just going in, supposed to be one of them. Captain Harper further advises, that at Montserrat all the vessels put out to sea; that a ship, from Martinico for Old France, was lost on the rocks, in the gale; that the water came down from the hills in such torrents, that it carried away part of the town, six or seven houses being intirely washed away, and the lives of many of the inhabitants preserved with great difficulty, several of whom have lost all their effects, some negroes perished, and some small craft lost: That at Dominica a Guinea ship, belonging to Bristol; a Brig from Martinico, belonging to Boston, and three other vessels unknown, were lost; that Capt. Flint, of this port, put out from Martinico, and arrived safe at Dominica, after the gale; and Captain Montgomery, from this port, was also safe arrived at Dominica.

Extract of a Letter from London, September 13.

"By this time I hope tranquility and good temper reigns thro' the whole continent, and that the satisfaction of being released from distress, prevails more in the minds of the colonists, than ever the gloom that that very distress at first occasioned; you should now surely be satisfied. You have now got into the hands of a ministry, who, in fact, did you the essential service of getting the Stamp-act repealed. The union between the mother country and her colonies being thus happily cemented, should not be interrupted by small peevish disputes upon matters of little or no moment. Wise and calm men should seize the happy opportunity of inculcating the greatest cordiality and kindness; should encourage people to meet the wishes of a mild government, and not to cavil upon little insignificant points, after having obtained the very essence of liberty.

"Lord Shelburne, as secretary of the southern department, has the colonies under his care; he has hitherto acted upon large and general principles; and be persuaded that his most zealous wishes are, to be able to procure for this kingdom, and the colonies, the most permanent and solid advantages.

"You know too well the natures of people here, to be much surprised at the flagrant abuse against Lord Chatham, but it is dying by degrees; and it is begun to be understood, that he can be a great minister to this country, let him sit in what house of Parliament, or accept what high office he pleases."

CHARLES-TOWN, DECEMBER 2.

LAST Tuesday the Brig Philadelphia Packet, Captain John Harrison, arrived here from Philadelphia, in whom came Samuel Brailsford, Esq; and Lady; Mr. John Scott, Merchant, and Son; Mr. Adam Daniel; Mr. Maurice Jones, Merchant; and sundry other Passengers.

On Wednesday, the Snow Penn, Capt. Harkies, arrived here from New-Jersey, in whom came the Honourable CHARLES Lord HOPE; the Hon. Captain Mark Napier; Dr. Dundass.——We hear his Lordship intends to remain here some Time.

On Thursday, the Ship Hannibal, Captain Stephen Puddicombe, arrived here in 7 Weeks from Pool, but brought no Publick Prints.—The Captain informs us, that there had been great Riots throughout England, occasioned by the Scarcity and Dearness of Corn, for the Want of which the Poor were driven to the greatest Straits—That a Number of Mills and Barns were burnt or otherwise destroyed by the Mob, who appeared in open Rebellion—That in Gloucestershire, Wiltshire, Somersetshire, Devonshire, &c. the Outrages were so general, that it became a serious Matter, and a Privy Council was called upon the Occasion; when an Embargo was laid on all Vessels loaded with Corn, until the 14th of November.

Last Wednesday Captain Puddicombe spoke with the Brig Robert & John, bound from the Bay of Honduras for Liverpool, 34 Days out, all well.

On the 20th of October, the Sloop Mary, James Sheffield, Master, sailed from Savannah for St. Augustine, and was not arrived there the 19th ult. so that it is feared she is lost. The Honourable William Grover, Esq; Chief-Justice of East-Florida, and near twenty other Passengers, were on board.

On the 14th ult. a Sloop from Barbados for the Bermudian Settlement at St. Mary's in East-Florida, was cast-away about six Leagues to the Southward of Musquito-Inlet.

Friday last the Honourable Martin Howard, Esq; Chief-Justice of North-Carolina, set out by Land for that Province.

The Commissioners of Pilotage for the Bar and Harbour of Charles-Town, have contracted with Mr. Samuel Cairdy for building immediately a BEACON or LIGHT-HOUSE of Brick, on Middle-Bay Island near the Bar, to be One Hundred and Fifteen Feet high, with a Lanthorn on the Top, which will be of the greatest Utility to Navigation.

By all Accounts, the Cherokees have lost a great Number of their People, by the general Sickness that has prevailed through all the Southern District of North-America for some Months past.

By Letters from Fort-Prince-George we learn, that some Cherokees had brought Accounts to that Post, importing, that the Chickesaws had joined the Choctaws in their present War against the Creeks, and that a large Body of those Nations had fallen upon and cut off three of the Upper-Creek Towns. The Cherokees add, that the said united Body fell in with the famous MORTAR of Oakchoys, and a large Party of Creeks, most of whom they killed, together with the Mortar himself. This Affair is not mentioned in any Letters or Advices from the Creek Country or that Quarter.
